COUNTY SPENT $420,172 FROM GENERAL FUND

Adams County spent $420,172.35 from its general fund during 1961, according to the annual financial report made by the county auditors to the county and state.

The report was filed Wednesday at the prothonotary's office, four days earlier than the report for 1960.

The report covers only the amount expended under the general budget and does not include the county home, child welfare and other expenditures which are listed under the "Institution District" budget. That report will be completed in about 10 days, according to present expectations of the auditors, their president, Mrs. Ruth Frey, said in filing the report.

INCOME, EXPENSES

The county's general fund began 1961 with a balance of $55,314.17. Income included $549 from the peace fines; $258,652.99 from taxes; $18,997.15 from prior year's taxes; $6,213.28 from refunds; $28,521.02 from fines levied by the county; $3,976.26 from interest and rents; $10,880.52 from departmental earnings; $4,697.84 from other sources, and $51,000 transferred from the Institution District to the general fund. According to a note on the report, the Institution District still owes the county fund $45,000. Total of receipts and balance was $439,872.73.

Expenditures totaled $420,172.35 including $104,202 for general government-administrative; $67,746.78 for general government-judicial; $125,227.23 for corrections; $55,871.34 miscellaneous; $1,125 for interest; $60,000 paid on debt and $6,000 loaned the Institution District.

LIQUID FUEL AUDIT

The liquid fuel fund report filed at the same time showed that fund began the year with a balance of $118,594.96 and received $88,960.80 during the year from the state. Expenditures totaled $103,834.58 including $56,010.24 for county aid; $40,501 for construction of new bridges; $5,459 for property damages; $1,740 for repairs to existing bridges, and $131.75 miscellaneous. The balance in the fund at the end of the year was $103,721.20.

In adopting a budget for 1962, the congregation provided for its participation in the International Christian Youth Exchange program designed to bring a teenage youth from overseas to live in one of the homes of the parish for the coming year. The project is sponsored by a cooperating group of eight denominational agencies in the U. S. Countries participating in sending youths to America are Austria, Brazil, Congo, Finland, France, Germany and Iceland. The congregation's youth subcommittee of the Christian education committee will make the necessary plans to carry out this project. The exchange youth will arrive in Gettysburg early in August.

Reports presented indicated that in 1961 there was a five per cent increase in the baptized membership and an 11 per cent increase in the total amount contributed to all causes. A budget of $62,197 was adopted for 1962.

Kennedy Asks Support Of Five-Year Plan To Set Up New Tariff Partnership

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy appealed today for prompt bipartisan endorsement of his five-year plan to dismantle the tariff barriers to a freely trading, trillion-dollar economic partnership with Europe.

"We will prove to the world that we believe in peacefully tearing down walls instead of arbitrarily building them," the President told Congress.

Repeating requests made in his State of the Union Message two weeks ago, he asked authority to negotiate tariff cuts of up to 50 per cent on some groups of products and complete elimination of tariffs on other items.

EXPANSION ACT

His special message on trade was studied with assurances that the "trade expansion act of 1962," as he titled it, would benefit workers, businessmen and consumers. It would preserve existing safeguards for domestic industry, he promised.

Fate Of Astronaut Glenn In Orbital Flight Hinges On A Frail, Silent Sentry

By JOHN BARBOUR

Associated Press Scientist
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—In the tortured moments when John H. Glenn Jr. rides 120 tons of burning rocket fuel into space, his life will depend on a silent sentry no man can match.

The huge Atlas rocket which, if all goes well, will boost Glenn into a 4½-hour flight three times around the world Saturday, is little more than a metal balloon. Its gleaming skin is thinner than a dime, so thin that a blow from a sledge hammer would drive a hole in it.

The whole structure would collapse under its own weight if it were not held rigid by internal pressure. This pressure is supplied by helium until the time comes to replace that inert gas with the rocket's fuel—kerosene and liquid oxygen.

ELECTRONIC SENTRY

Less than 80 feet away from where Glenn sits in the Mercury spacecraft, and near the mighty rocket engines themselves, is a satchel-sized electronic sentry, attached to the skin of the Atlas.

It reaches out with slender fingers of wire to feel the pulse of the mammoth rocket, to measure the pressure that keeps it whole, to watch the electrical circuits, to monitor the actions of the steering equipment that guides the rocket's flight.

WATCH FOR TROUBLE

Even before the Atlas is launched, the sentry, called ASIS, watches for tell-tale signs of trouble. If it finds any, the count-

Delone Student's Essay Wins Bond

An essay entered by Judy Ann Mahone, a Senior in Delone Catholic High School, won top honors in a contest sponsored by Hanover Sceptimist Club among local high school students. The theme was "My Responsibility as a Citizen in the Family—in the Community and in the World."

Miss Mahone, 17, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Mahone, Hanover, was presented with a $25 bond by Mrs. Mary Coulson, chairman of the club's service objective committee, at a dinner meeting of the club Wednesday night in the Hanover Diner.

TO ATTEND VIEWING

All members of the Gettysburg lodge of Elks have been asked to meet at the lodge home at 7 o'clock Friday evening to attend the viewing of Andrew V. Weikert at the Peters Funeral Home in a body.

NO REAR LIGHTS COST HIM $102

Louis L. Storm, McSherrystown, who was cleared on a reckless driving charge and two counts of failing to halt for a stop sign, was fined $10 and ordered to pay costs of $102.30 for not having rear lights, Wednesday in York County court.

Storm told judge George W. Atkins that he had been following a car driven by friends when a policeman stopped him in Hanover.

Police Officer Daley Myers, Hanover, said he saw the car traveling without lights and began following it. The car went through two stop signs and at one point, when it was parked, pulled away as he approached, the officer said.

The policeman said he was not able to see the driver but he took the license number. He said he had to give up the chase because the car was being driven too fast. But when he saw it about 15 minutes later on Carlisle St. he charged Storm who was driving.

The judge concurred with the appellant that, because of the lapse of time between the offense and the stopping of the car, the driver could not be clearly identified.

KENNETH DICK HEADS 5-CITY TRAVEL GROUP

A Kenneth Dick, president of the Gettysburg Travel Council, was installed as president of the South Central Pennsylvania Travel Council at a meeting of the organization Wednesday evening at the Howard Johnson Restaurant on Steinwehr Ave.

Dick succeeds Fred Bailey of York. Other officers installed were Robert Shoemaker, Lancaster, vice president, and Frank Burgess, Lancaster, secretary.

The South Central Pennsylvania Travel Council is a cooperative venture of the Gettysburg Travel Council, Hershey Information Center, Colonial York Tourist Bureau, Lancaster Pennsylvania Dutch Tourist Bureau and the Carlisle Chamber of Commerce.

MANY ATTRACTIONS

The South Central Group, which has circulated 300,000 folders urging visitation to the area, also voted to spend $500 in advertising in the New York Times travel section to promote visitation here.

One activity of the group is to promote the area as a vacationland rather than a place for tourists to visit for only one or two days. The variety of attractions in the area ranging from the Battleground here to mountain fishing and camping and the Pennsylvania Dutch and colonial attractions of the area make it ideal for vacation stay, one official said.

Dr. S. A. Kirkpatrick, Hanover, showed films of the re-enactment of the Battle of Manassas in which he took part as one of the costumed soldiers and urged that a re-enactment be staged here in 1963. The South Central group took preliminary steps toward urging the National Park Service to change its ban against re-enactments.

The next meeting of the group will be held in Carlisle March 1.

A native of Frederick County, Md., and daughter of the late William H. and Sarah (Fisher) Long, the deceased and her husband had operated the Palm Lunch in Emmitsburg in 1928 and later operated the White House Inn there.

She was a member of Elias Lutheran Church, Emmitsburg.

Surviving are three sons, J. W. Greta Keilholtz, Hagerstown; Clifford O. Keilholtz, Emmitsburg; and Kenneth W. Keilholtz, Grotton, Conn.

Fisher, Washington, D. C.

Fryling Attending Mathematics Session

Robert H. Fryling, assistant professor of mathematics at Gettysburg College, is attending the annual meeting of the Mathematics Association of America today and Friday in Cincinnati.

The meeting is being held in conjunction with the annual meeting of the American Mathematical Society.

Mathematicians from several of the nation's leading graduate schools and institutes for advanced study will speak on subjects relating to recent developments in logic, analysis, geometry and college and secondary school curricula.

Judge George W. Atkins, York County court, Wednesday, declared forfeited the bond of Donald L. Baltzley, Aspers, who failed to appear on a reckless driving charge.

BIGLERVILLE GETS U.S. AID

A grant of $8,642.06 in federal funds has been secured for the borough of Biglerville in the construction of its new sanitary sewer system, according to a telegram received by The Gettysburg Times Wednesday afternoon from Congressman George A. Goodling.

Congressman Goodling said he had been advised Wednesday of the approval of the grant to Biglerville by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for the Biglerville sewage treatment plant and sewer system.

Tracy Greenland of the firm of Tracy Engineers, Lemoyne, told The Gettysburg Times that an application for federal aid on the sewer system project at Biglerville was made about a year ago under provisions of Public Law 660 and that the final inspection by federal authorities was made early last fall when the system was in operation.

The sewage treatment plant at Biglerville cost about $130,000 but the entire system was financed by a $400,000 bond issue. The system went into operation early last September and about 121 users have been connected. Biglerville borough officials said that more homes and business places are being connected steadily and that over 300 will be using the sewer system when connections are completed.

PLAN PHYSICAL THERAPY HERE FOR CRIPPLED

At a special meeting of the board of directors of the Adams County Crippled Children's Society late Wednesday afternoon, it was decided to establish a physical therapy center here for the benefit of crippled persons in this county with a part-time specialist from Franklin County to be in charge.

Under action taken by the board at its session in the Methodist Sunday School rooms here, the center will be set up in rent-free quarters in the basement of the Eddie Memorial gymnasium at Gettysburg College in a room formerly used by the varsity wrestling squad.

It was estimated that necessary equipment can be provided for $300. Services to crippled children in the county will be free.

DROP HOSPITAL PLAN

The center will be operated by Leonard Luchsinger, Waynesboro, former physical therapist at the Warner Hospital but now in the employ of the Franklin County Society for Crippled Children and Adults. Mr. Luchsinger will spend four days each week in Franklin County and one day in this county.

He will be paid $1,200 a year for his services here and the Adams County society also will pay his travel expenses in connection with services in this county.

Wednesday's action was taken after the board rescinded an earlier decision to make use of the staff and equipment in the physical therapy department at the Warner Hospital for similar purposes.

URGED BY COMMITTEE

Mrs. Robert MacAskill as chairman of a special committee appointed by the board.

COUNTIAN JAILED

Lewis Metz, Ottanna R. 1, caught in Quincy Twp., Franklin County, while operating during suspension of his license, was sent to jail for two to four months and fined $100 and costs in Franklin County court, Chambersburg, Wednesday. It was his third offense on the same charge.

U.S. Urges Latin Nations To Help Save Hemisphere From Cuba's Red Assault

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP)—The United States in a searing indictment of Castro communism appealed to the other American nations today for a four-pronged counterattack to save the hemisphere from the ravages of global Red assault.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk told the inter-American foreign ministers' conference considering the threat of Cuba's communism that the Americas need a shield to protect democratic processes if the Alliance for Progress program is to succeed in its attack on the hemisphere's economic ills.

SEVEN HAVANA TIES

Rusk called on the 19 American nations to declare Castro communism incompatible with the inter-American system, exclude the Havana government from participation in the Organization of American States, interrupt the "limited but significant flow of

62-Year-Old York Man Is Charged With Involuntary Manslaughter Here Today

Shortly before noon today Alfred J. Flory, 62-year-old sheet metal worker from York, was charged before Judge of the Peace Robert P. Snyder with involuntary manslaughter in the December 22 hit-run death of Eugene D. Crigger, 12-year-old Abbotstown boy.

The charge was filed by Borough Officer John Bechtel, of Abbotstown, who 10 days ago arrested Flory on a hit-run driving charge in the boy's death. Flory has pleaded guilty to the hit and run charge and is on bail for February court.

The manslaughter charge was filed a few minutes after a coroner's jury named Flory as the driver of the car that killed the Crigger boy as he walked along the side of the road at the edge of Abbotstown pushing his bicycle which had a flat tire.

The inquest was held in the court room at 10 o'clock this morning by Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner. It was completed in an hour and a half.

HAD BEEN DRINKING

Testimony at the inquest revealed that Flory went to Officer Bechtel at noon the day after the accident "to get in the clear"; that Flory had been drinking beer and whiskey at the Old Mill Inn at New Oxford just before he struck the boy and that skid marks on the roadway indicated brakes were not applied until after the boy had been hit.

Testimony also disclosed a number of versions of the drinking and the events leading up to the accident in various statements given Bechtel and state police in the course of the investigation.

There was testimony, too, that the car that struck the boy stopped at the scene, backed a few feet where some one got out of the car and walked toward its rear, then the car moved forward about 200 feet, stopped again for "two or three minutes before it took off in a hurry towards York."

A month-long investigation of the case has failed to locate any witnesses to the collision, the coroner's jury was told this morning.

DOES NOT TESTIFY

Flory attended the inquest but on advice of his attorney, Donald M. Swope, did not testify. Under inquest rules, Swope then was not given an opportunity to question witnesses. The quizzing of witnesses was handled by Dr. Crist and District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter.

The jury's verdict ruled that Flory "was not in condition to drive his car" the evening of the accident.

In a statement to police he said Flory had dozed, felt a bump and then applied his brakes. His recollection about stopping afterwards and getting out of the car was described as not clear. "Sometimes he remembers and sometimes he doesn't," Officer Bechtel said.

The first witness was Clair Trish, operator of a trailer sales lot in front of which the accident happened. He told of hearing a

WGCT Will Air Col. Glenn's Space Flight

When Lt. Col. John H. Glenn makes his historic ride into space, now tentatively set for Saturday morning, the Mutual Broadcasting System, with which WGCT is affiliated, will be responsible for audio network connecting the world with the 300-thousand square mile Atlantic Ocean recovery area.

In this most extensive broadcast coverage pattern yet designed, Mutual's facilities will be used to report to U. S. listeners and the world fullest possible descriptions of the capsule recovery and visible condition of the astronaut.

FOUR ON TEAM

Two MBS reporters, New York news bureau chief Jack Allen and Washington newsman Joseph Campbell, will report for the all-network pool which has been set up for the flight. Allen will work with the medical unit examining Glenn immediately following his recovery and Campbell will be in the landing zone should Glenn return to earth following his second orbit.

In addition, Mutual's own broadcast coverage will have Charles Batchelder, veteran of the previous Shepard and Grissom flights, and Mutual Washington bureau chief Charles Warren as joint anchors at the Cape.

The entire description of Glenn's ride into space will be broadcast on WGCT beginning at 7 a.m. on the day of the shot.

UNION ASKS COURT TO STOP ROAD MERGER

By LEE LINDER
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Transport Workers Union asked the U. S. District Court today to direct the Pennsylvania Railroad to "take no further steps toward advancing a proposed merger" with the New York Central Railroad until it negotiates an agreement protecting all its employees. The union appeal came at a hearing on a railroad petition for an injunction to prevent a threatened strike of 10,000 TWU members Feb. 4.

The railroad on Tuesday asked the court to issue a preliminary injunction to stop the proposed walkout called by the union last Saturday.

HEAVY DAILY LOSS
The PIR claimed the strike threat resulted in a daily loss of $50,000 and asked the court to award such damages.

U. S. District Judge Abraham L. Freedman scheduled a hearing on the PIR's petition for today.

The New York Central, threatened with a strike, filed a similar petition in U. S. District Court in New York Wednesday. A federal judge there ordered the union to show cause why the restraining order should not be issued. Argument is scheduled for next Tuesday.

The TWU, in its cross-motion here, asked the court to direct the PIR to stop:

"1. Holding any meetings of its stockholders for the purpose of acting on any proposed merger."

"2. Conducting any vote of its stockholders on any proposal for a merger."

PETITION PLEAS

"3. Filing any application or petition with the Interstate Commerce Commission, or any federal or state agency which requests approval of a merger."

"4. Engaging in any other act or conduct directly or indirectly intended to accomplish or advance the accomplishment of a merger."

"5. Making, ordering, or causing to be made any change in the carrier's operations, or directing abandonment or transfer of any work from one location to another, directly or indirectly in anticipation of or advancement of any proposal to merge."

"6. Any sale, lease, or other disposal of any of the carrier's property, facilities or equipment, which is designed or intended, directly or indirectly, to accomplish or assist in the accomplishment of a merger."

Airlines' Merger Approved By Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals upheld today the merger of United Air Lines and Capital Airlines which has been in effect since last June.

The court dismissed a request for a stay of the Civil Aeronautics Board order which permitted the merger. Eastern Air Lines, Delta Airlines and Northwest Airlines had sought to prevent the combination.

The court said that instead of tending to create a monopoly as the petitioners contended, the merger would serve to create more competition.

GOOD WEATHER FORECAST FOR ORBIT FLIGHT

By BEM PRICE
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Good rocketry weather is forecast for Saturday, strengthening hopes that astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. will take his historic triple whirl around the globe that day.

If he doesn't get off then, there could be another extensive delay. An official forecast issued this morning said favorable conditions in the Atlantic area are expected to end in the next few days, but probably will extend through Saturday.

NEED CLEAR WEATHER

It's highly important, for a man bound on such a great adventure, to have good clear weather near the launch site, plus gentle seas and good visibility at the points where he is to come down.

In foul weather optical instruments would have difficulty tracking him, and rescue teams might have trouble fishing him out of the ocean when he alights.

Depending on whether he makes one, two or three orbits around the earth, Glenn is expected to come down in different places in the Atlantic.

7 A.M. COUNTDOWN

The long countdown looking toward Glenn's space adventure will be started at 7 a. m. Friday. The countdown marks the checking and rechecking of innumerable factors that spell success or failure in an orbital attempt.

The count will extend over a period of 500 minutes—8½ hours but instead of being continuous it will be split into segments.

The final five hours will begin early Saturday. This segment includes two hours of surplus time programmed in an effort to allow time to correct any trouble that might develop and still get the shot away on schedule at 7:30 a.m. If no trouble develops, these two hours will be consumed with automatic "holds" in the countdown.

HISTORIC MISSION

If all goes well, the Marine lieutenant colonel will be boosted on his historic mission to explore space between 7:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. The launching was originally scheduled for the same time on Wednesday, but a valve in the oxygen supply system developed a fault and had to be replaced.

A NASA spokesman said Glenn, 40, continued to be relaxed and seemingly unworried. His day Wednesday was a light one.

PUSH SURVEY OF SHELTERS

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania civil defense officials are setting their sights on Dec. 31 as the target date for completion of a momentous federal survey of state fallout facilities.

"The survey is already in full swing and should take a little less than a year to complete," state civil defense director Richard E. Gerstall said Wednesday in an interview.

He noted that architectural and engineering firms have begun their work in all 28 areas assigned by the federal government for study.

The purpose of the survey is to determine what community shelter facilities exist in Pennsylvania and where these facilities are located in relation to the people.

It is part of a $93 million nationwide program aimed at acquainting the public with the problems

Local Man Jailed On False Pretense

Leo N. Steinour, 15 Chambersburg St., was arrested this morning by Cumberland Twp. Constable Fred Swisher on a charge of cheating and false pretense filed before Justice of the Peace John O. Whitman, Cumberland Twp. Steinour pleaded guilty and was placed in the county jail in default of $500 bail for court.

The charge was filed against him by Lloyd K. Stultz, one of the proprietors of the Mountview Service Station, Fairfield R. D., along the Emmitsburg Rd. Stultz charged Steinour gave him a $30 check on the Biglerville National Bank. The check was returned marked "no account."

Steinour will be listed for sentence court on February 17.

Cites Relationship Of Child, Parent

The second meeting of the agriculture extension child study group will be held Wednesday, February 14, from 1:30 to 3:30 o'clock at West Street Bank.

At the first meeting Wednesday, Mrs. Marguerite Duval, Penn State extension specialist, centered her discussion on parent-child relationships. A movie, "Angry Boy," was shown. Mrs. Duval said that infancy is the stage of growth, not only physically, but socially, mentally and emotionally. Children learn about the world around them through close contact with the mother and father. "The way he is held, whether feeling on edge or relaxed, is the clue to his security and the feeling of being wanted," she said.

Homemakers with children in the early childhood years are invited to attend the next study session.

Maps Of Italy Are Found In Spy's Plane

ACQUAVIVA, Italy (AP) — Aerial maps of southern Italy were found aboard the Bulgarian MIG 17 jet that crashed landed near a new missile base Saturday, an Italian air force source reported today.

The source described the maps as "rather inaccurate" and said: "It is pretty obvious that the pilot was ordered to fly here to check the exact positions of several North Atlantic Treaty Organization missile bases scattered in this region."

The pilot, Lt. Milusc Solakov, 22, crashed in an olive grove near this south Italian town six miles from the new missile base Gioia del Colle. The Italian Defense Ministry said Monday there were indications that Solakov was on an aerial spying mission, but the investigation since has been shrouded in secrecy.

JFK CRITICAL AND IRKED BY PRESS CONFAB

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy, under questioning during his liveliest news conference in months, was:

Critical of the House Republican leadership.

Irked by a woman reporter's question.

Philosophic about the Senate investigation of Pentagon speech censoring.

Reserved about the outcome of the Inter-American meeting in Uruguay.

Hopeful that: His tariff-cutting proposals will escape a partisan fight on Capitol Hill. His medical care plan under Social Security will come up for a congressional headcount this year. NATO will increase its conventional military strength. India and Pakistan will settle their Kashmir dispute. The United States and Portugal can work out a renewal of the U. S. lease on its Azores Air Base.

WAS UNCONVENTIONAL

Kennedy also was unconventional in identifying Weaver as the man he intends to appoint as head of a department that doesn't yet exist. Weaver would be the first Negro to serve in a Cabinet. His race is one of the controversial factors in a congressional dispute over Kennedy's plan for the new department.

Kennedy was critical—"some-what astonished"—of the House Republican leadership for opposing the plan. All five Republicans in the Rules Committee voted against it, with four Democrats. The President said he would challenge Congress again by proposing the department by the reorganization process. That way, it would be authorized within 60 days unless either House or Senate took the initiative to reject it by majority vote.

"We are going to send it up right away," Kennedy said.

"FORCE, STRENGTH"

In a more philosophic tone, Kennedy said "coordination" and "guidance" on policy statements of military men and government officials are valuable if the United States is to address the world "with force and strength." He was discussing charges, now the subject of Senate hearings, that military figures have been muzzled in speeches on such issues as the Communist menace.

Kennedy was reserved in anticipating the outcome of the inter-American conference called in Uruguay to consider action against the Cuban government of Fidel Castro. But he said he was confident the foreign ministers would "make their hostility to communism and totalitarianism very clear."

SCORES 25-HR. WEEK

Kennedy was critical, at another point, of the 25-hour work week provided in an agreement between the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and New York's construction industry. He advocated a 40-hour work week and benefits that reflect increases in productivity. The New York contract, he said, meets neither standard.

Asked about milk consumption, he again urged Americans to drink more milk without fear of radioactive contamination.

And on a light note, he observed breezily that Press Secretary Pierre Salinger had drunk some a few hours earlier "with no adverse effect."

AG SECRETARY WILL SPEAK IN HARRISBURG

By RICHARD L. GRAVES
HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Lawrence reported today that U. S. Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman will make a personal appearance in Harrisburg Feb. 3 to explain the national farm program.

"Our farmers and consumers will benefit from a first-hand account of the farm program," the governor told his weekly news conference.

The governor said the request for Freeman to appear had been made by himself and U. S. Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa. President Kennedy will present his farm program to Congress Jan. 30.

DEFENDS COMMISSION

In other comments centering on agriculture, the governor again defended the three-member Milk Control Commission as "good a milk control board as we've ever had."

The governor quoted a magazine article written by board Chairman Simon K. Uhl. The article indicated that Pennsylvania's average price per quart of milk is 26.8 cents—a price lower than that in all neighboring states except Ohio.

At the same time the figures indicated that the price per quart of milk received by farmers is 13.4 cents in Pennsylvania—higher than any neighboring state.

DRINKING MILK

The prices quoted were for Class I milk, the drinking type. The actual price received by farmers for all milk sold to dealers, according to the U. S. Agriculture Department report, was 11 cents a quart. That price was lower than all of Pennsylvania's neighbors except New York and Ohio, the federal agency reported.

The governor said he would be opposed to abolishment of the Milk Control Commission because "in the end the consumer and farmer are hurt."

$115,126 Budget Adopted By Littlestown Borough Council At Long Session

A budget calling for expenditure of $115,126.72 during 1962 was given tentative approval by the Littlestown borough council at its meeting which began Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock in the borough office and ended at 2:15 Wednesday morning.

The budget calls for expenditure of $62,096.20 from the general account, up $8,000 from the $54,125.28 spent in 1961. The water fund expenditures will total $27,605.26 this year, down from the actual expenditure of $42,382.07 in 1961.

Sewer fund expenditures are set at $25,425.26, also a slight decline from last year's actual expenditure of $26,359.97. No budget is listed for the highway aid fund apparently because the borough has not as yet received its state motor license fund grant. Last year $3,362.92 was spent from that fund.

GOOD FINANCIAL CONDITION

While the town contemplates spending $115,126.72, it will end the year in the borough's usual excellent financial shape. The estimated surpluses and unappropriated balances will total $216,381.60 of which $155,034.71 will be in the sewer fund, $25,236.77 in the water fund and $26,111.12 in the general fund.

Following tentative adoption of the budget by a municipality, the officials must wait one month before final adoption of the plan for expenditure.

Council approved a number of salary increases: Street commissioner Joseph H. Redding from $3,700 to $3,900; Disposal Plant Operator Guy L. Conover from $3,450 to $3,650; Chief of Police Calvin W. Mummert from $3,400 to $3,600, and Glenn E. Ohler from $3,350 to $3,500. The salary of Mrs. Marilyn S. Zanger as part-time emergency telephone answering service operator and clerk was raised from 86 cents to $1 per hour.

TWO LAID OFF

In its discussion on salaries of borough employees council decided that it is unnecessary to have four full-time employees during the winter months and as a result it was decided that the two borough employees now paid on an hourly basis, Robert B. Crouse, who receives $1.10 an hour, and Herbert H. Motter, who receives $1 an hour, were temporarily laid off. Council decided to continue the insurance now carried on Crouse until he is again employed "and if he fails to return when requested the said insurance be dropped."

Council authorized drafting of an ordinance amending the original ordinance relating to recreation board membership. The original states that the board will consist of five persons "two of the members shall be members of the school board." The new ordinance will state that two of the members may be school board members, but does not require that they shall be.

MAY INCLUDE FAMILIES

The borough council approved a plan whereby coverage under the borough's group insurance plan may be extended to the employees' families, so long as the premiums are paid by the borough employees and council has to pay nothing.

Resignation of Edward T. Kowalczyk as a Littlestown policeman as of February 1 was accepted.

The Alpha Fire Company asked council to purchase 200 feet of 2½-inch hose. Council voted to ascertain the cost.

Council authorized ordination of and construction of Park Ave. Extd. from E. Myrtle St. to Newark St., past the northern entrance of the high school parking lot, after receiving a deed for the 65-foot street from the Littlestown Joint School Authority and I. H. Crouse and Sons.

HELP XMAS FUND

Council appropriated $350 to help defray the $573 cost of Christmas decorations in the borough and indicated council will assist in paying for the cost of the decorations in future years. The action came after a committee from the Littlestown Chamber of Commerce explained that not only was there difficulty in raising funds for the 1961 Christmas decorations but that there had been deficits each year for the past several years. The committee said the Chamber planned to drop the Christmas lighting project unless it receives some assistance. Council made the donation with the understanding that the Chamber of Commerce continues its support of the project. At the same time council said the Chamber's committee in charge of Christmas decorations should "get in touch with the borough council's light committee prior to making arrangements for the installation of the lighting fixtures if they expect any support from the borough."

NEW STREET LIGHT

The light committee was asked to determine whether an additional street lamp is needed on Newark St. between Prince and N. Queen Sts. and report back with a recommendation at the next meeting of council.

Council voted to have Claude W. Ollinger repair stairway treads where necessary at the Alpha Fire Hall and directed that the borough employees paint the hallway and floor of the hall.

Council voted to purchase eight chairs, a table and a desk for the borough office and council meeting room.

A resolution was adopted calling upon the borough employees and the public to cooperate in the survey being made by engineers of the Fourth Naval District for buildings to be used as fallout shelters.

OTHER BUSINESS

Council voted to erase from its minutes of last month the reapportionment of Attorney Edward B. Bullitt as borough solicitor and LeRoy H. Winebrenner as borough engineer, having discovered that their previous terms have not expired. Hence there was no reason for their being included in the list or reappointments.

Expenditures approved included: From the borough fund, $3,079.01; from the water fund, $501.03; from the sewer fund, $977.03. Treasurer John H. Flickinger reported receipts of $649.71.

Secretary Keefe's minutes of the meeting noted: "There being plenty of unfinished business, but due to the lateness of the hour, 2:15 a.m., Councilman Robert W. Gouker seconded by Councilman Walter C. Myers moved that council adjourn to reconvene at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday evening February 27. Motion carried."

will never accept is the use of Cuba as a means through which extracontinental powers seek to break up the inter-American system, to overthrow governments of other countries and to destroy the autonomous democratic revolution of the hemisphere," Rusk said.

"The Castro regime has extended the global battle to Latin America. It has supplied communism with a bridgehead in the Americas, and it has thereby brought the entire hemisphere into the front line of the struggle between communism and democracy. It has turned itself into an arsenal for arms and ammunition from the Communist world. With Communist help, Dr. Castro has built up the largest military establishment in Latin America."

CITES CONQUEST PLAN

Rusk said the Castro regime is dedicated to Marxism-Leninism and not democracy either in Cuba or the hemisphere.

"Every delegate in this hall knows in his mind and heart that those behind Castro hope to overthrow his government and every other government in Latin America. The Castro regime by repudiating the principles and philosophy of the inter-American system and making itself the American agent of world communism has created a clear and present danger to the prospects of free and democratic change in every country in Latin America," Rusk warned.

"The time has come for the American republics to unite against Communist intervention in this hemisphere."

COULD BE EFFECTIVE

Rusk's four-point proposal apparently represented the maximum that the United States hoped would be voted at this conference though his call for a break in trade relations went beyond what had been forecast.

Cuba's present trade is now about 80 per cent with the Soviet bloc and it has only about $7 million worth with the Americas. However, a break in trade relations would likely have a psychological impact in the hemisphere.

down stops. Once the Atlas is two inches off the ground, ASIS takes over full control, watching the great beast of a rocket for signs that it may run amok.

Even a "destruct" signal from the range safety officer on the ground must wait for ASIS to do its job. The safety officer is concerned about the path of the rocket's flight. Is it going astray to endanger life or property?

If his watching stations on the ground indicate it is, then he pushes a button that beams an immediate radio signal to the rocket, cutting off the flow of fuel. The interruption in the fuel flow is sensed by ASIS and it flashes the escape signal. Before the safety officer's finger has left the fuel cut-off button, the escape rockets are doing their lie-saving job.

F And M Student Killed In Accident

TARRYTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—Two men were killed Wednesday night in the head-on car collision on the Tappan Zee bridge of the State Thruway.

The victims were identified as Albert Humrich Jr., 44, of New City, N.Y., driver of one car, and Michael P. Hennessey, 19, of Newark, Del., a passenger in the second auto.

Hennessey was a student at Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, Pa. The second driver, Michael Stick, 19, of York, Pa., also a Franklin and Marshall student, suffered cuts and a broken nose.

to eliminate entirely tariff walls between this country and the European Common Market.

But it contained more persuasion than detail. The specifics were in an administration draft bill sent Wednesday to the House Ways and Means Committee to replace the trade agreements act expiring next June 30.

TO PUBLISH DRAFT

The committee was to make public the draft today.

Well aware the bill will be attacked by protectionist groups, Kennedy urged Congress to override sectional, party and "bloc" interests and to preserve the bipartisan support for a liberal trade policy which has lasted for two decades.

"(The act) is designed as the expression of a nation, not of any single faction or section," he said. "It is in that spirit that I recommend it to the Congress for prompt and favorable action."

Governor Lawrence Praises Policemen

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Lawrence praised 56 policemen Wednesday for the part they played in an investigation which led to the arrest of a suspect in the Centralia murder case.

The governor, speaking at ceremonies in his office, said the seven-month investigation was an outstanding example of cooperation between state and local police.

Bigham, Miss Grace Kenney and Miss Ellen Miller also presented portions of the committee report which concluded with a recommendation for the establishment of a county treatment center.

Eight county youngsters currently are taken to the Franklin County center at Waynesboro for treatment. It was pointed out Wednesday that, if a center is established here, more regular treatment can be provided to those children and it is expected more counties will be able to receive treatment. Mr. Lachsinger also would be available for home treatments.

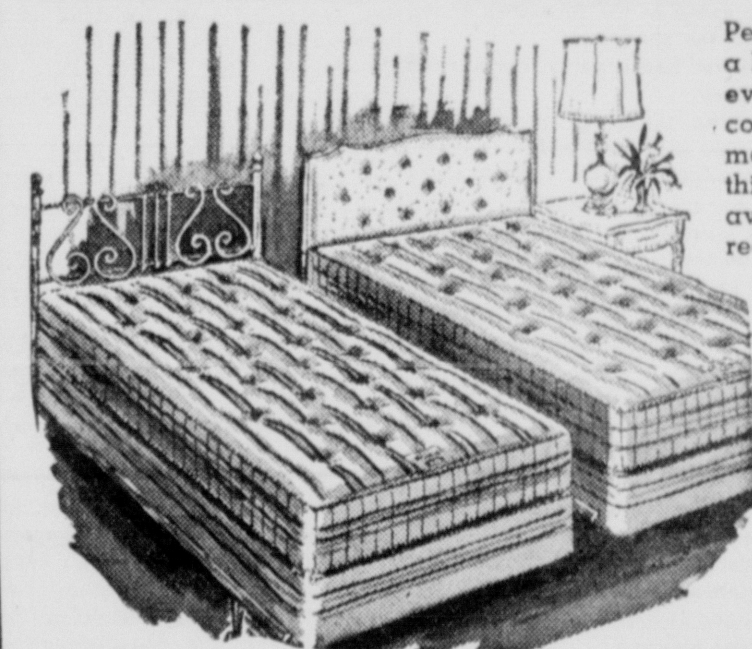

The Rev. Amos D. Meyers, president of the county society, presided at Wednesday's meeting. When arrangements for the center are completed, a special meeting of the board may be called for final approval of plans before operation begins. Setting up the center will be the duty of Mrs. MacAskill's committee.

BACKS POLICE HEAD

HARRISBURG (AP)—State Police Commissioner Frank G. McCartney appears secure in his post — at least as long as Gov. Lawrence sits in the chief executive's chair.

This is what the governor said Wednesday as he answered demands by Republican State Chairman George I. Bloom for a state police shake-up.

Norman Sponseller, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Sponseller, Hanover R. 4, was injured, probably not seriously, when he was struck Sunday afternoon about 1:30 o'clock by a car operated by Clement G. Wagner, 46, 229 Chambersburg Street.
The child was hit as he ran highway about two and a half miles from McSherrytown. The left front fender of the Wagner machine hit the boy as he crossed from the north to the south side of the road enroute to the Sponseller house from the barn.

Today's Talk

RISKS
All risks are a test of faith. Obscurity may be greatness with nobody around to announce it. This we know, that God took great risks in placing each one of us in this world. But it isn't what we fail or achieve in that marks our worth. Often it is what we fail in totally so long as the purpose and intention were fine.

Just to have bravely striven — even though alone.
As the chambered nautilus casts off its outgrown shell so does each changing purpose of our lives give new zest and clothe new tasks.

If we do nothing that involves risks, we are apt to do nothing worth mentioning.

The tiny baby in its warm, soft clothes sleeps to its risks. But in a few years it finds itself wound about with their urge.
We are enveloped with risks. What we gain, we gain by risking. With the crumbling of our fondest desires, we are faced with an horizon of risks. We challenge our ignorance again and again. And our intelligence is asserted only as we newly arise and determine to risk once more.

When things don't look plain, there is always the cloud of confusion about. And you have to risk a great deal to get out of a cloud. You say, "Why are clouds?" But you know why when they have passed.
"If winter comes, can spring be far behind?"
And if risks gather, isn't happiness worth the risk?

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Just What You Can"

Just Folks

HE NEVER HAD TIME
He never had time to play with the boys,
To romp in the meadows or loll in the shade,
He never had time to share in the joys
Or the pleasures of youth—he was always afraid
That while he was resting some one might succeed
In passing by him — and he would call to climb;
The call of the summer he never would heed—
He never had time.

He never had time in the evenings to play
With the baby that begged for a ride on his knee;
When his fortune is made, little one he would say,
"Ah, then I will frolic and gambol with thee."
The babe at his knee unto mankind had grown
Without ever hearing one nursery rhyme.
The joy of a father he never had known—
He never had time.

And now he is dead! And his mourners are few,
And the flowers they place at his grave seem to say:
"Here is the man that no one of us knew;
He trampled us down if we stood in his way."
Oh, think how he'll seem to the good God above,
Although he has never committed a crime,
Baring his soul that is barren of love,
Since he never had time.

SENATE WILL OKAY DISTRICT BILL TONIGHT

By JACK LYNCH
HARRISBURG (AP)—The Senate is set for a whirlwind wind-up of the congressional reapportionment bill tonight.

The chamber will work on the bill at separate sessions before and after midnight, fulfilling a constitutional requirement that legislation be considered on three separate days.

Initial approval of the bill trimming three seats from Pennsylvania's congressional delegation was given by the Senate Wednesday, a few hours after the House completed its action on a vote of 112-20.

The House, which began work on the bill Monday, then adjourned its special session until next Monday when the measure will be sent to Gov. Lawrence for his signature.

PASSES HOUSE
Legislative action on the bill contrasts sharply with the months long stalemate between the two major political parties over how and where the 30-member delegation should be trimmed.

There was no debate as the measure cleared the House.
Fifteen minutes after receiving the bill, the Senate gave it committee approval and read it for the first time.

Under the measure, a Democratic seat will be taken from Philadelphia, a Republican district will be eliminated in western Pennsylvania and a swing district will be established in eastern Pennsylvania.

The swing district, in which Democrats and Republicans presumably would have an equal chance, will consist of Berks, Schuylkill and Northumberland Counties.
Sen. Gus Yatron, D-Berks, said he is considering offering an amendment that would shift Northumberland County into a district with Dauphin and Lebanon Counties.

He said Wednesday night he felt this arrangement would result in a more even population distribution in the two districts.
However, there appeared little chance that any amendments will be passed.

Leaders on both sides of the aisle are committed to passage of the present bill, which represents a compromise worked out by top party officials.
Both houses held regular sessions Wednesday in addition to the special meetings on reapportionment. A special session was declared for the redistricting because the General Assembly is limited under the constitution to consideration of fiscal affairs.
At the regular sessions, the Senate confirmed 45 appointments made by Gov. Lawrence and the House gave preliminary approval to a series of measures to provide stop-gap appropriations to several agencies which have exceeded their 1961-62 budgets.

Sunday Operators To Appeal Fines

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Three supermarket operators fined for violating the state's new Sunday food sales law will appeal to Allegheny County Court on grounds that the new law is unconstitutional.
Attorney Milton W. Lampropoulos announced his intention after the officials, who pleaded innocent, were found guilty Wednesday by Justice of the Peace Regis J. McCarthy of nearby Millvale.
Henry Verscharen, owner of Verscharen Markets in Library and Brentwood, was fined $400 on four counts; Victor Pasula, operator of Payday's Market in Elizabeth, $200 on two counts and Martin Haines, owner of Haines Market in Pleasant Hills, $100 on one count.

Says Kennedy Will Aid Ticket In Pa.

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., says President Kennedy will speak on behalf of Democratic statewide candidates in the elections this year.

Scott also told a group of northeastern Pennsylvania Republican leaders Wednesday night that the Democrats are about to launch the greatest registration drive in the history of Pennsylvania.

He called for a balanced Republican ticket and said he was hopeful Pennsylvania would assemble what he termed a ticket as powerful as those shaping up in California and Michigan.

PENNSY SHOWS PROFIT IN DEC.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Pennsylvania Railroad, helped by one of the best Decembers in recent years, had a net profit of $3,515,586 in 1961 equal to 27 cents a share.

America's biggest railroad, which earlier this month agreed to merge with the New York Central, showed a profit of $6,243,910 in December that helped wipe out a deficit which exceeded $18 million last June.

The PRR, carefully cutting expenses, chopped down its losses month by month in the last half of 1961, culminating with the fine December profit.

The 1961 profit compared with a deficit of $7,819,112 in 1960 when the December loss was $2,630,798.
The railroad said its good December was "affected favorably by sustained freight volume, good weather which kept normally heavy winter expenses low, and year end dividends."

STATE SCHOOL AUDIT PROGRAM IS FAR BEHIND

HARRISBURG (AP) — The school audit program started in 1958 is too new to determine whether employment of additional auditors will clean up the backlog of school audits in his department, says Auditor Gen. Thomas Z. Minehart.

Minehart and his chief deputy, John M. McHale appeared Wednesday for a second time before a joint session of the House and Senate appropriations committees.

McHale said the department now is about seven months behind in its audits of other state past half way mark in the 1958-59 school year. This means a backlog of more than 18 months (not counting the 1960-61 term).

PLEA FOR MONEY

The committees reopened their joint study of Gov. Lawrence's $1 billion general fund budget to question Minehart further and to hear a plea for more money from the Philadelphia School of Osteopathy.

Minehart, a Democrat who succeeded Republican Charles C. Smith last May, said in his original appearance before the committees Jan. 8 that he wanted to hire 83 new employees. A desire to clean up the backlogs in audits, particularly schools, was one of the reasons he cited.

On Wednesday, he corrected his testimony and said the department intended to hire only 62 new employees, including 50 auditors for field work.

90-MINUTE SESSION

Minehart and his staff were questioned closely by the committee members during a 90-minute session over the need to grant his department a $5.3 million appropriation for the 1962-63 fiscal year.

That is nearly $1 million over his current appropriation and only $1 million under the total appropriated to the department in the last two years of Smith's term.

McHale said the greatest backlog in school audits exists in southeastern Pennsylvania.

His testimony was offered in defense of a Reading regional auditing office created last month to serve the southeastern portion of the state.

The office was attacked earlier in the week by Republican State Chairman George I. Bloom, who claimed it would cost the taxpayers an extra $1,800 a year. Bloom also questioned the fact there was no backlog in the office.

McHale said there was no backlog simply because the office "hasn't been in business long enough." He added rental is relatively cheap for the area.

Kennedy Rebukes Reporter For Questioning Security Of 2 In State Department

By FRANCES LEWINE
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy came swiftly and vigorously to the defense of two State Department officials described by a woman reporter in a news conference question as "well-known security risks."

In a dramatic exchange Wednesday, the President not only vouched for the security status of the pair but rebuked the reporter.

He told Sarah McClelland, Washington representative for several Texas and New England newspapers, that she was using "a very strong term which I would think that you should be prepared to substantiate."

The President said he was familiar with the status of the two men — William Arthur Wieland and J. Clayton Miller — and declared they can carry out the duties assigned to them in the State Department "without detriment to the interests of the United States."

He sharply told Mrs. McClelland he hoped they could do so "without detriment to their character by your question."

Mrs. McClelland touched off the exchange when she said "two well-known security risks" recently had been put on a task force in the State Department to help reorganize the Office of Security.

The President interrupted to ask for the names, and Mrs. McClelland gave them.

Within a few hours a State Department spokesman added to the President's comments at another news conference, declaring that the two men had neither been charged nor found to be security risks. Both were reported now assigned to the Office of Management in the Bureau of Administration at the State Department.

DELETED BY NBC

The ticklish nature of the episode led the National Broadcasting Co. to delete the exchange from its taped broadcast of the presidential news conference. The network said it had been told by the White House press secretary, Pierre Salinger, that the exchange was not legally privileged.

Both the American Broadcasting Co. and the Columbia Broadcasting System aired the conference in full, however, and other news media carried full reports.

Neither Wieland nor Miller could be reached for comment.

After Kennedy's news conference, it was reported that men were "closeted" with Undersecretary of State George W. Ball and Roger W. Jones, deputy undersecretary for administration.

ASSURED BY STATE

Later Lincoln White, State Department press officer, called in reporters and quoted Jones as giving the State Department's assurances that Wieland and Miller had neither been charged nor found to be security risks.

Wieland, in his present job since last October, formerly was chief of the State Department division in charge of Cuban, Mexican and Caribbean affairs. The State Department said Miller had been assigned to the Office of Management last June, when he joined the State Department after holding various posts in government and private service.

Delone Seeks Repeat Victory Against CHS Here Friday Evening

Gettysburg and Delone Catholic High Schools take time out from their respective basketball leagues when they meet here Friday evening.

Delone, which finished the first half of the Central Penn Catholic League with a 2-3 mark, brings an overall 7-6 record here. Coach J. T. Flaherty's Squires will be out to repeat a 65-42 decision gained over the Warriors at McSherrystown last month.

In Jim Livelsberger, 5-11 Senior, the Squires have one of the best point producers in the county. In addition to Livelsberger there are three other lettermen on the Delone squad, Bill Timmins 6-1 and Jim Weaver 6-0, both Seniors, and Dick Neiderer, 5-10 junior. Bobby Conrad, 5-8 soph, has been one of the standouts among the newcomers to the squad.

George Forney's Warriors finished 0-4 in the first half race of the South Penn circuit and their losing streak is now up to eight. They have an overall log of 1-10.

Lacking in height and experience, the Warriors have been depending on their hustle and spirit against their opponents. They are hopeful of pulling an upset on Friday.

The Jayvee teams will meet at 6:45. Gettysburg (2-7) lost at McSherrystown 39-37. Delone's reserves are 7-5.

A-F CONTESTS

Second half play in the Adams-Franklin League will get started Friday evening. Bermudian won the Adams Division title in the first half while Greencastle's unbeaten outfit copped the Franklin laurels.

Games on Friday include: Littlestown at Fannett-Metal, New Oxford at Buchanan, Bermudian at St. Thomas and Scotland at Quincy. Fairfield will play at Greencastle Saturday evening.

Biglerville, 5-7 overall, will attempt to repeat a victory earlier this month when it meets Perry Joint on the latter's floor.

Two games are scheduled Friday in the South Penn Junior High circuit.

Gettysburg (2-3) meets Washington Township (0-4) on the Bulldogs' floor while Central tangles with Faust at Chambersburg.

RUSSELL OUT, CELTICS LOSE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bob Cousy said it a year ago. "We can win without me. We can win without (Tommy) Heinsohn. We can win without (now departed Bill) Sharman. But without big Bill we don't win," the Boston Celtics captain said.

And Boston, sorely missing the services of big Bill Russell, lost one of its rare National Basketball Association games Wednesday night, falling before struggling St. Louis 135-123.

Russell was sidelined with a pulled Achilles tendon, suffered in New York Tuesday.

The lanky center, voted the NBA's most valuable player last season, will be out a week.

CELTICS' 10TH LOSS

The loss was only the 10th this season for the Celtics, who are racing toward their sixth straight Eastern Division title, and only their second at home this season.

The victory lifted St. Louis to within 2½ games of Detroit which holds third place—the last playoff spot—in the West.

Detroit took a 1x1-102 victory over Syracuse on the Pistons' home court.

Wilt Chamberlain led Philadelphia to a 122-108 conquest of weary Chicago in a Boston Garden game that preceded the Celtics-St. Louis clash. At Los Angeles, the Lakers beat Cincinnati 136-123.

Barcelon, Spain (AP) — Three more bodies were recovered today from the debris of the eight-story resort hotel that collapsed at nearby Pineda Tuesday when near completion.

This brought the death toll to 13 but some 15 workers were believed still missing and the search continued.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Defending champion Gary Player, finding the Harding Park Municipal Course to his liking, opened play today in quest of another $9,000 prize in the San Francisco International Open Golf Tournament.

The 160-pounder from Johannesburg warmed up with rounds of 70 and 68 over the par 71 layout and voiced no complaints while many other leading pros complained of soft conditions on the greens.

Shut out of the money in Bing Crosby's golf tournament last week, Player coined money here even before the 72-hole tournament opened. His 68 in the pro-amateur prelude brought him $400.

Only Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La., with a 66, was lower than the little South African Wednesday although Don January of Dallas matched his 68.

Forecasts indicated clear weather for the 72-hole event, unlike last year when Player rallied in a rainstorm with a 65 on the final day to win with a 272.

However, snow and rain last weekend left the greens soft for the 6,672-yard course with its par 36-35.

Former PGA champion Bob Rosburg, who played here as a youngster, was especially outspoken saying the greens were the worst he's seen on the PGA tour since he turned pro eight years ago. Rosburg shot a 72.

Also on tonight's sparse schedule—Houston, a leading Southwest independent with its 13-2 record, goes for its third straight over Texas Christian on TCU's court; Canisius is at Providence, and LaSalle plays at Miami of Florida.

Wednesday night, Jerry Carlton staged some late-game scoring exploits that sparked Arkansas over Tulsa 99-77. Carlton netted six points as Arkansas scored eight straight in a spurt that broke 1 open, totaled 16 points in the final six minutes and 14 in the last four. He had 21 for the second half and 26 for the night.

Bob Schaumburg clicked on a field goal with two seconds to go, giving the Air Force a 58-56 victory over Denver.

And in an afternoon game, small college powerhouse Hofstra came from 12 points back in the second half and dealt Army its first loss at home in two years, 57-45. It was the 12th straight victory and 13th in 14 starts for Hofstra, ranked sixth in the AP small college poll.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The playing area where the Houston Colts will make their 1962 debut in the National League may be the largest in the major leagues.

Paul Richards, general manager, said today he is pleased with the measurements at the $800,000 temporary stadium where the Colts meet the Chicago Cubs on April 10.

National League hitters will be swinging toward a 360-foot barrier in left field, a 420-foot fence in center field and a 360-foot target in right field.

FEWER HOMERS

The nearest rival to such distances is Kansas City. The American League club there had measurements of 370, 421, and 354 feet in 1961 but Richards said he understands the Athletics are cutting the size of their park for 1962.

"We'll have fewer home runs than other parks," Richards said. "I think the park is in real good shape."

The Colts are to use the temporary stadium only for their debut season. They are scheduled to move into a $22-million domed stadium in 1963.

The temporary stadium will seat 32,000 compared with 46,217 for the domed stadium.

WINNER MEETS FULLMER

Archie, shorn of the NBA version of the title because of inactivity, outpointed Italy's Giulio Rinaldi in New York last June 10. It was his first title defense in almost two years.

Downes won the Massachusetts-New York-European version of the title by beating Pender 1 London July 11. They were signed for a return fight in Boston, April 7, but for a while it looked like it was going to fall through.

Wednesday, however, the Briton agreed to fulfill the contract. At the same time Downes and Pender, of Brookline, Mass., accepted a proposal by the New York commission that the winner take on Fullmer, of West Jordan, Utah, within 90 days and clear up the middleweight title. The site has not been determined.

NEW CABINET POST BEATEN IN COMMITTEE

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democratic strategists figured today they had lost a small skirmish and probably won a major political war by an apparent reversal in the Rules Committee.

To the surprise of no one, the committee Wednesday rejected President Kennedy's proposal to create a Cabinet-status department of urban affairs and housing.

The President lost no time in expressing astonishment that all five Republicans on the committee voted against sending the bill to the House floor for a vote.

Within an hour after the committee acted by 9 to 6 vote, the President told a news conference he would continue to fight for the new department. And he said he planned to name a Negro, Robert C. Weaver, to head the agency and join his Cabinet if the department is established. Weaver now heads the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

REORGANIZATION PLAN

The renewed fight, the President said, would be in the form of a reorganization plan to be sent to Congress. The plan would establish the department by executive order unless either branch of Congress vetoed it within 60 days.

Some top House Democrats predicted the reorganization plan would be defeated by roll call vote. They expect a majority of Republicans and most Southern Democrats to oppose it.

While there was no official confirmation, there was a well-based suspicion that the Rules Committee action did not make the new House leadership unhappy.

SEE FUTURE GAIN

It was known that the showdown could have been delayed had Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts requested it. In the face of certain defeat, McCormack made no such request of Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., one of the four Southern Democrats who voted against the bill.

Instead, it was learned, McCormack merely requested and received approval of a bill to provide federal aid for college classroom facilities construction.

Democrats hope to make considerable political hay out of the committee action. They believe the fact that committee Republicans opposed the urban affairs bill 100 per cent, while Democrats backed it 60 per cent, will hurt Republican election chances in big city areas where the GOP hope to pick up House seats in November's elections.

LOW WAISTS, SHORT SKIRTS ARE OFFERED

By GABRIELLE SMITH
PARIS (AP)—Extra short skirts and low waists with blouse-like tops and sculptured shapes highlighted the spring and summer collection presented today by the house of Dior.

Designer Marc Bohan in a striking presentation also showed suits of heavy tweed with masculine checks and pinstripes, with loose blouses reaching just below the waist, and straight skirts.

Early day wear was almost serious, with black and white checks and white-striped grays. The suits recalled the 1930s in mood, and dresses were definitely from the 1920s.

Suits had straight skirts that looked like well-faded oblong paper bags, with ridge stitching standing out like pressed seams on men's trousers.

LOW NECKLINES

There were some ultra-low necklines and several dresses had huge bumpy bows well down the back.

Afternoon dresses turned suddenly soft and fluffy. A knockout called "cinema" was a white bloused black shantung ensemble with a very low oval neck trimmed with wide ruffles. Surprises came in printed tulle fabrics on harvest themes, also with ruffles.

Suits were identified by English-sounding names which fitted their blacks, whites and greys and their mannish moods. Yet they were not unfeminine.

50 "Witnesses" Going To Lancaster

More than 50 Jehovah's Witnesses from the Gettysburg area are expected to attend a three-day Bible conference in the Moose home, Lancaster, January 26-28. The convention is expected to attract at least 1,200 delegates from 17 congregations in southern Pennsylvania and northern Maryland, according to Harold Cluck, presiding minister of the Gettysburg congregation.

The theme of the assembly is "Assist One Another to Do God's Will." The three-day seminar is designed to provide instructions for the Witnesses in the house-to-house ministry.

Arrangements for operating the Lancaster gathering will be cared for by volunteer workers from the 17 congregations. The more than 20 departments will be manned by 150 specialty trained Witnesses. No meetings will be conducted in the Kingdom Hall in Gettysburg this weekend due to many attending the assembly in Lancaster.

Principal speaker will be J. W. Filsen, district supervisor from New York. His subject will be "Uniting Men in a Split-World." All sessions of the convention are free and open to the public.

Interment was made in the church cemetery. Six grandsons served as pallbearers. They were Joseph, John, Robert, Donald, Thomas and George Poist Jr.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Family Food Facts

THOMAS E. PIPER
Area Marketing Agent

It's more often true of foods than of other consumer items that "what goes up, will come down." In one sentence, that's a quick summary of the price situation on perishable food commodities this week. Weather conditions have permitted resumption of normal harvesting and shipping activities and surveys of the freeze damage indicates less harm done than first anticipated, reports Tom Piper, Penn State extension marketing agent.

Many produce items will be priced substantially lower than a week ago, namely cabbage, endive, radishes, celery, peppers and Chinese cabbage. Tomatoes will be much cheaper too as large supplies of vine-ripened and green-ripened tomatoes will compete for a place in your shopping cart. Lettuce prices continue to fluctuate with small heads offering best value on a weight basis.

Florida sweet corn was one of the crops damaged badly by the recent cold. This item is expected to share a high price position with escarole, parsley, carrots, anions, spinach, green onions and cucumbers. Texas grapes have been severely damaged and items supplied in large volume by that state will remain higher in price for several weeks to come.

RHUBARB AVAILABLE

First shipments of rhubarb are arriving from the hot-houses of Ohio. Potatoes and sweet potatoes remain plentiful and economical.

Apple movement continues to set new records with over 12 million bushels entering marketing channels from cold storages in December. This item is the value leader among fruits just now. Citrus quality and color is reported excellent with small sizes a better buy for the money. Tangerines received extensive freeze damage but grapefruit and oranges less so and supplies of these were not materially reduced.

Since the seasons are reversed in our southern hemisphere, many foodmarkets display peaches, plums, nectarines and honey dew melons imported from South America. First-of-season strawberries and watermelons are arriving from Florida but, like the Emperor grapes, D'Anjou and Bosc pears, supplies are rather short and prices on the high side.

Livestock shipments have rather large in the past week and retailers are well stocked to feature a variety of good buys this weekend. Pork loins, hams, and bacon are expected to share the value position with round and sirloin steaks, chuck roasts and ground beef. Large size eggs are in plentiful supply and another good source of protein.

When shopping for meat, consider the cost per serving of various cuts. This is a better guide to economy than price per pound because some cuts contain bone and fat waste. Such cuts have fewer servings per pound.

OFFICER TESTIFIES

Officer Bechtel told of finding the boy's body, apparently lifeless from a fractured skull and crushed chest, lying along the road about 15 feet from the bicycle which apparently had not been hit.

He also revealed Flory and his wife came to Abbottstown the day after the accident to say "I don't think I hit the boy but if I did I want to clear myself." At that time, Bechtel said, Flory denied he ever drank, denied having made a stop enroute home from his place of employment in Chambersburg the night of the accident and said he had traveled alone.

Police investigation showed he had left Chambersburg at 2:45 p.m. instead of 4:10, had companions to New Oxford and frequently stopped at the Old Mill Inn for drinks as they did the day of the accident. Bechtel said Flory was at the inn "at least an hour," had three pony bottles of beer and then a double shot of whiskey which was "on the house." From New Oxford, Flory was alone, Bechtel said.

IDENTICAL PAINT

Bechtel also told of sending paint samples to state police laboratories at Harrisburg for comparison. He said the report showed flakes of paint found at the point the boy's body was found, bits of paint found on his clothing and a sample taken off Flory's front fender were identical.

The officer also described damage to the Flory car and showed pictures taken of it. Bechtel said the area where the boy was struck was "very well lighted" although the accident occurred after dark. He said the boy wore dark clothing and his bike had no reflector at the rear.

Trooper Edwin Karr, of the state police here, who worked with Bechtel on the fatal accident, read the laboratory report on the paint tests.

One of Flory's drinking companions at the Old Mill Inn, Robert J. Poist, New Oxford R. 1, said Flory had a whiskey with his beers before the "on the house" double shot. He said Flory was "normal" after the drinks and that "was not unusual for him." Poist said the man separated at 5:10 p.m. on the square in New Oxford the evening of the accident.

Members of the jury were William Mumper, Harold Ecker, Vernon Clapper, Clair Sanders, C. A. Cluck and Hugh C. McIlhenny, foreman.

BROWN IS OUT TO BEAT NIXON FOR GOVERNOR

By MORRIS LANDSBERG
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California's Democratic governor, Edmund G. Brown, is setting out on a 10-month campaign with a prime objective: beat Richard M. Nixon.

Brown announced Wednesday night he'll run for a new four-year term and he seemingly took it for granted the former vice president will be his Republican opponent in November.

Brown put not only his record but that of President Kennedy on the line.

KENNEDY BACKING

A wife from Kennedy, who lost California narrowly to Nixon in 1960, endorsed Brown as "a humane, progressive and enlightened leader." He predicted victory if the voters, 3-2 Democratic, can be sold on the state administration's record.

Brown declared Nixon knows nothing about California; that he is out to convert the governor's office into Nixon-for-president headquarters.

"I don't like what he stands for and I don't like his reasons for wanting to be governor," he said.

3-WAY RACE

Nixon, a former California congressman and senator, replied that Brown "offers four more years of the indecision and bungling which have become his copyrighted political trademark."

"In contrast to his warmed-over policies of the past," he added in a statement, "I shall present to the voters of this state new programs to meet the challenge of the future."

Nixon, in entering what is now a three-way race for the Republican nomination for governor last Sept. 27, pledged he would not run for president in 1964. And he said he intended to beat Brown "to a pulp."

ACCEPTS CHALLENGE

Brown, 56, accepted the challenge before a cheering spillover crowd of 2,300 diners who paid $100-a-plate to hear him make it official. Those in charge estimated the affair netted $193,000.

"I know we can whip him," he said of Nixon.

Then, in an epilogue to his formal address over statewide radio and television networks, he said, "I am confident you people will not let me be beaten to a pulp."

SEES TOUGH CAMPAIGN

Brown predicted "the roughest, the toughest" campaign in California history.

Assuming all three candidates publicans will choose from among Nixon, State Assemblyman Joseph C. Shell of Los Angeles, and former Lt. Gov. Harold J. Powers for the GOP nomination in the June 5 primary.

Brown, who faced threatened opposition within his party some months ago, is the only announced Democratic candidate.

KENNEDY IS IN FAVOR OF CENSORSHIP

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy says the Pentagon should continue its "very valuable policy" of requiring military men to get advance clearance of their public speeches.

The President told his news conference Wednesday that he favored the system that provides civilian control of the military "and the coordination of speeches which interpret government policy."

The result, he said, is "that the United States speaks with force and strength."

IN THIRD DAY

At the same time, Kennedy gave his blessing to an investigation by a special Senate subcommittee into the Pentagon's policy on censorship. "I am sure it will be useful," the President said.

The inquiry goes into its third day today with additional testimony from Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, former chief of naval operations. Gen. Thomas D. White, former Air Force chief of staff, is scheduled to follow Burke.

Charges by Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., that the Pentagon has been "muzzling the military" on anti-Communist statements set off his current Senate investigation.

SUBMITTED OWN SPEECHES

Kennedy told newsmen he had submitted to the State and Defense departments for advance checking portions of his own State of the Union Message to Congress dealing with foreign policy and defense.

The President said he didn't think anyone could do better than to read remarks on the subject by Burke, White and Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Kennedy said all three understand the "proper relationship between the military and civilian."

In his testimony before the subcommittee Wednesday, Lemnitzer vigorously defended the present speech clearance procedure.

Arrested

Former SS Gen. Karl Wolff, above, a prominent figure in German-American peace negotiations in 1945, is being held in West Germany on suspicion of crimes against the Jewish people. PITT DOCTORS PROPOSE NEW CARE MEASURE

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A nationwide program of medical care for the aged based on prepaid health insurance and guaranteed pension benefits is being urged by a group of Pittsburgh area doctors.

The physicians set forth details of the program Wednesday in letters to President Kennedy, every member of Congress, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Abraham Ribicoff, secretary of health, education and welfare.

As outlined, the program is keyed to a minimum of government aid and a maximum of self-help.

"It will further the idea of having the public think of what they can for themselves, rather than what the government can do for them," the doctors told President Kennedy and the others.

IS SUBSTITUTE PLAN

The doctors comprise the Allegheny Chapter of the National Physicians Guilds, Inc., in nearby Natrona Heights. They advanced the plan as a substitute for the Kennedy administration's proposal to tie medical care for the aged to Social Security.

In essence, the physicians' program calls for medical costs of the elderly, including hospital and surgical expenses, to be covered fully through paid-up health insurance at retirement plus adequate pension funds.

The doctors said they recognize that coverage of medical costs for many over-65 citizens is a serious problem.

OPPOSE OLD BILL

But the King-Anderson bill, sponsored by the Kennedy administration, is not the answer, they said, for two main reasons: It would put the government between the physician and his patient, and it would add to an already heavy tax burden.

The "ultimate solution" proposed by the doctors centers on health insurance "which will mature as a fully paid up policy with full benefits and with no further premiums after age 65 or after retirement."

It would be the task of a national agency established by organized medicine, private industrial concerns and health insurance firms to develop and promote the prepaid coverage.

This agency also would work for a system in which an employee would have vested pension rights upon employment, so that retirement benefits would be adequate and would not be affected by job changes.

3 TOWNSHIPS FILE REPORTS

Straban, Berwick and Highland Twp. this morning filed their annual reports with Clerk of the Courts Clark Spence. The reports follow:

Straban—Income, $14,211 from local sources and $13,905 from state aid; expenditures, $2,046 for general government; $264 for protection to persons and property; $15,440 for highways and $1,570 for miscellaneous purposes. The assessed valuation was $1,434,178 with general purposes taxes at 6.

LYKENS, Pa. (AP)—Police still searched wooded areas surrounding Lykens today for John J. Riegle, 48, Washington, D.C., who is wanted for questioning about the slaying of his 85-year-old father. Meanwhile, Coroner Thomas J. Fritchey scheduled an autopsy for the victim, Charles Riegle. Police theorized he had been killed by a small, calibre weapon, probably fired in the kitchen of the Riegle home here.

The slaying came to light Wednesday when Mrs. Riegle, 75, called an undertaker after her son had left.

There was $2,039 outstanding in 1961 taxes. The township constructed 1.4 miles of road, known as T-484; cares for 39 miles of roads and upkeeps 14 wooden bridges. Auditors were John K.

Lott, Walter E. Coshun and Herbert E. Zepp. Berwick—Income, $9,078 from local sources and $3,821 from state aid; expenditures, $997 for general government, $1,318 for protection to persons and property, $5,008 for highways and $290 for miscellaneous purposes. General purpose taxes were 5 mills and there was $526 uncollected in 1961 taxes. The township maintains no bridges and 9.1 miles of roads. Auditors were P. C. Miller, Wilford E. Rohrbaugh and Curtis R. Hildebrand. Highland—Income, $3,197 from local sources and $5,547 from state aid; expenditures, $724 for general government, $4,058 for highways and $136 for miscellaneous purposes. The general purpose tax was 5 mills and there was $489 uncollected in 1961 taxes. Six tenths of a mile of road was built in 1961 and the township maintains 16.6 miles of roads and two wooden bridges. Auditors were Lyndale Brandon, Sara Keefe and Francis W. Weikert.

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

HOMEMADE BEAUTY AIDS.

Many a household supply doubles as a beauty aid and none better than latex foam rubber slab and sheeting—the sort used for upholstery and linings. What with the fashion for throw pillows, almost every household has some latex foam in the storeroom. Or you may wish to invest in a length, after reading these tips on how it could pamper your looks:

Do your eyes feel and appear tired at the end of the day? Then scissos: an eye mask from quarter-inch sheeting and saturate it with a soothing eye lotion. After a 15-minute application, you'll have a sparkling outlook for the evening.

When your rouge and foundation streak, blend them with a water-dampened scrap of sheeting and there'll be no tell-tale edges.

To keep your hairdo from being crushed overnight, swath your head in a strip of foam sheeting—about 8" wide and 28" long. Cover all with a pretty sleep or curl cap. In the morning—no muss or crush!

Cut a kneeling pad from 2" foam slab, and kneeling jobs will be less fatiguing. Your knees will be smoother, too.

Do you dread reducing exercises? The floor's too hard, cold and uncomfortable? If so, make an exercise mat. Simply cover a 2" foam pad with heavy-duty fabric. That way, slimming becomes a mighty soft proposition.

INSTANT BEAUTY TIPS

For 50 ways to look lovelier, send for my leaflet, "INSTANT BEAUTY TIPS." It shows you how to overcome such annoyances as chipped polish, ragged lipline, straggly hair and even stuck zippers; also, how to create glamour fillips with makeup and accessories. All in the wink of an eyelash! For your copy, write me: A Lovelier You, Box 158, The Gettysburg Times, Dundee, Ill., enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and five cents in coin.

SAY CYANIDE KILLED FISH

HARRISBURG (AP)—Cyanide discharged by the Bethlehem Steel Co. plant in Bethlehem was responsible for the Jan. 20 Delaware River fish kill near Stover State Park, the State Health Department says.

Walter A. Lyon, director of the Division of Sanitary Engineering, said Wednesday.

"Our investigation indicates that toxic amounts of cyanide were not present upstream from the Bethlehem Steel Co. plant in Bethlehem, but were present in the effluent from the plant."

A Bethlehem spokesman said, "we're at a loss for an explanation concerning the reported fish kill. We've been adding facilities over the years to improve the quality of our discharges. We can't understand why, with all these measures, the situation would appear to be getting worse instead of better."

"We are taking the state's find-

NAME ALPERN TO JUDGESHIP

HARRISBURG (AP)—Anne X. Alpern was named Wednesday to fill the Allegheny County Common Pleas Court seat vacated by the man who defeated her for State Supreme Court justice.

The appointment of Miss Alpern, former attorney general and Supreme Court justice, now needs Senate confirmation.

Miss Alpern, a Democrat, would succeed Republican Henry X. O'Brien, who was elevated to the Supreme Court at the Nov. 7 election. She was serving an interim term on the Supreme Court at the time.

Her new appointment would run until January, 1964.

In naming Miss Alpern to the court, Gov. Lawrence praised "her exceptional legal ability and her unsurpassed public service."

Lawrence also asked the Senate to approve the re-appointment of J. Robert Baldwin of Erie to another term on the state's Industrial Development Authority and called for confirmation on these appointments:

Ashland State General Hospital Board of Trustees—Joseph A. Paulosky, Minersville; Joseph Land, Minersville; Al R. Gallagher, Heckscherville; Joseph O'Haren, Shenandoah, and Franklin P. Diehl, Hegins. All are re-appointments.

Worcestershire sauce adds zest to a simple cheddar cheese spread, cheese soup or a cheese soufflé.

State Senate OK's Appointment List

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Senate on Wednesday approved the appointment of James Bush-Brown, Ambler, to the State Art Commission.

Other appointments approved: County Boards of Assistance: Juniata — Mrs. Helen Armstrong, Port Royal, and the Rev. Stuart H. Lengle, Liverpool. Mifflin — Earl D. Frett, Lewisport.

Perry — Mrs. Janet E. Rippman, Newport.

York — Herbert Bullard, York, and Alexander Strachan, Dover.

Senate Group Is Trying To Find Out If Military Leaders Are Being Muzzled

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — This week Robert A. Lovett, defense secretary under President Truman, said he feels that "as a government we talk too much (and) give the impression of being unbuttoned."

He told this to a Senate subcommittee which began hearings Tuesday on whether military men are permitted to talk enough. The hearings will go on for weeks, probably get overheated, and will take three directions:

(1) Censorship of speeches by military officers before civilian groups; (2) teaching or educating troops about communism; and (3) participation by military men in seminars and public meetings.

All three questions come down to this: How much freedom shall military officers have to speak on matters not directly connected with their military duties?

FOLLOW U.S. VIEWS

President Kennedy's administration—like President Eisenhower's before it—has a policy which insists speeches military or other government officials give on national security matters be in line with White House views and the American foreign policy.

The investigation is the result of charges by Sen Strom Thurmond, a major general in the Army Reserve and a South Carolina Democrat, that the Pentagon "muzzled" anti-Communist talks by military men.

He said the muzzling was done on orders "direct from Moscow."

He wouldn't elaborate on that one. Two former high-ranking officers are most frequently mentioned in discussion of this case: Adm. Arleigh Burke, former chief of naval operations, and Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, former commander of the 24th Army Division in West Germany.

CENSOR BURKE SPEECH

When Kennedy took office last year Moscow decided to release two American fliers held prisoners for 18 months after their plane had been shot down in the Barents Sea off northern Russia. The Kennedy administration and Moscow consulted in some form on this release because on Jan. 25 Kennedy and the Russians issued simultaneous statements on it. That was five days after Kennedy took office.

About that time a speech by Burke was censored. Kennedy explained later that no one in this country knew at the time whether the fliers would be released.

The President said: "Therefore, there is some value in coordinating statements made by high-ranking responsible officials. It is the policy which must be followed by this administration."

WALKER IS DIFFERENT

Walker's case was different. He lectured his troops in Germany on anticommunism and a publication, Overseas Weekly, said he also described "as definitely pink" Truman, Dean Acheson, former Secretary of state, and others.

The Army investigated and reprimanded him, according to Army Secretary Elvis J. Stahr Jr., "for taking injudicious actions and making derogatory statements about prominent Americans."

The Army record showed he refused to answer—taking the equivalent of the 5th Amendment—when asked if he acted contrary to military regulations by advising his men on American political matters.

RESIGNS FROM ARMY

Walker, relieved of his command, quit the Army, began making speeches, and last week announced he has become "the symbol of patriotism for this country."

Thurmond said later he didn't know all the facts in the case but still didn't think Walker should have been bounced. At the same time he said officers should stay out of partisan politics.

Everybody seems agreed that military men must be subordinate to the civilian leaders of the government. The dispute is over how much they should be allowed to say.

General Eisenhower issued a long statement Tuesday which went around and around but did say "let our informed military speak, always under properly established policies and the general—not petty—supervision of their civilian superiors."

But, since it's this very degree of supervision which is under investigation, Eisenhower didn't solve anything.

Kennedy said last year he knows of 65 efforts by Eisenhower's administration "to make sure that speeches by members of the military were in accordance with the general objectives of American foreign policy."

BERLIN (AP) — An informed source reported at least 28 people from Communist territory broke through to West Berlin Tuesday night. About half were women and there were three children.

It was the largest number reported in many weeks. Details of

3 Firms, Union Accused Of Conspiring To Fix Prices In Women's Wear Industry

NEW YORK (AP)—Three women's wear industry groups and a local of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union have been accused by the federal government of conspiring to fix prices and allocate business.

Named Tuesday in a federal civil antitrust suit were the Greater Blouse, Skirt and Neckwear Contractors Association Inc. and the National Association of Blouse Manufacturers Inc., both of New York; the State Belt Apparel Contractors Association Inc. of Bangor, Pa.; and Local 25 of the ILGWU.

The action parallels an indictment on criminal antitrust charges that was returned against the same defendants in 1959. Trial on the criminal charges is scheduled to begin in Federal Court here on April 2.

COVERS 10 YEARS
The latest action, announced here Tuesday, also was announced in Washington by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

In it, the government charges the defendants with conspiring from 1949 to 1959 to fix prices and from 1949 until the present to allocate business.

The suit seeks to enjoin the defendants from continuing the alleged conspiracy to allocate business.

The 300 member firms in Greater Blouse and the 100 in State accounted for half—or $175 million worth—of 1957 wholesale blouse sales in the United States, the government said.

Blouse industry contractors sew blouses for manufacturers and jobbers. Manufacturers do some of their own sewing and send it

PAID FIXED PRICES

The government noted in its suit that the National Association represents most of the manufacturers and jobbers in the New York Metropolitan area and is the only association in the area.

Local 25 has contracts with the National Association, the complaint said, and these agreements "set the pattern for the labor contracts in the entire blouse industry."

The attorney general said members of National were required to pay fixed prices to members of the two contractor associations for blouse contracting work. They also were required to send their work only to Greater Blouse and State members and to allocate this work among those members, he said.

The criminal case could involve maximum fines of $50,000 against the defendants. The penalty would be in the discretion of the judge if the court granted the order requested in the civil suit and if the order was violated.

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The old practice of headhunting in the jungles of east India's Nagaland reportedly has been resumed.

A report today from Shillong, capital of Assam State, said village guards clashed several days ago with Naga guerrillas who are fighting independence from India for their area. The guards killed six guerrillas and cut off their heads to show as proof.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

SCIENCE FINDS SOME NOTIONS REALLY FALSE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Surprise findings that conflict with popular conceptions about aging and religion and adoption and motherhood figure in the medical news.

AGING AND RELIGION

There is a popular impression that the older persons grow the more religious they become.

To test the validity of this belief, Dr. H. L. Orbach studied the relationship between age, religion and church activity in a cross section of 6,911 adults in the Detroit metropolitan area between the ages of 21 and 84.

His conclusions as reported in the publication Geriatrics:

"But results have shown that there is no adequate proof to substantiate the view that people become more religious as they age. Studies of the relationship between age and religion do not support this common view and suggest that older people's religious behavior is determined by more direct social and cultural factors."

FERTILITY AND STERILITY

Another popular assumption is that if a childless woman adopts a baby, she vastly improves her chances of giving birth later.

To test this possibility, Drs. A.L. Banks, R. N. Rutherford and W. A. Coburn of Seattle, Wash., made follow-up studies of 31 infertile couples who were treated at a clinic and later adopted one or more babies.

They reported in the publication Fertility and Sterility that only one woman in the group subsequently gave birth to a child.

They concluded: "The fact that only one pregnancy occurred in

Only 14 Cases Of Animal Rabies In '61

HARRISBURG (AP)—An all-time low of 14 cases of animal rabies was registered last year, the State Agriculture Department reports.

The figure compares to 18 cases in 1960 and 241 in 1951.

The department said Tuesday it attributed the cutback to its enforcement of the dog law. The statute provides for elimination of stray dogs, which can become rabies carriers.

An infected dog was reported in both Greene and Lycoming counties; an infected cat and a squirrel each in Crawford and Northumberland counties.

Eight infected bats also were found. Three were in Lycoming County and one each in Chester, Dauphin, Lehigh, Northumberland and Perry counties.

NEW YORK (AP)—Plans are under way to produce a joint Soviet-American motion picture.

Producer Lester Cowan announced Tuesday that both American and Russian actors would be in the cast and scenes would be filmed in both countries.

This study agrees with the results of other investigations which indicate that the belief that normal pregnancy frequently follows adoption is false.

STARS SPEAK OF MEMORIAL TO E. KOVACS

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Wherever the top stars of Hollywood met this week, there was talk of a lasting memorial to Ernie Kovacs.

It could take the form of a weekly TV anthology which would be the most stellar in history. The show would occupy the time and talent of the comedian's widow, Edie Adams, as well as provide support for her and her family.

"The whole thing started spontaneously," reports Jack Lemmon one of Kovacs' close friends. "A bunch of us started talking about it—guys like George Burns, Jack Benny, Dick Quine, Mervyn LeRoy. We agreed there has never been a really top notch anthology show and thought this would be a good thing for Edie to participate in."

WAS AN ORIGINAL

"We kept talking and talking and now there are 39 people who have said they're willing to do it. They include practically every top star in the business."

"It's a dandy idea, but we don't know whether we can do it or not."

There would be all kinds of problems—getting scripts, arranging schedules and so forth. We're still trying to see if it can be worked out."

The stars haven't yet discussed the idea with Edie, who has been in Palm Springs with the children.

Hollywood's outpouring of sorrow over the loss of Kovacs, killed in a car crash Jan. 18, attested to the imprint he had made during his brief stay here. The playing of his last TV special Tuesday night also underlined his rare qualities.

He was an original. He followed no one, and no one will follow him.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges says a tax cut is "entirely conceivable" if the United States can increase its production by 4 per cent in the next year.

Hodges was asked at a news conference Tuesday whether a cut in the 52 per cent corporate income tax would help the United States maintain industrial leadership over the Soviet Union.

He said if annual U.S. production rises by 4 per cent, instead of the 2½ per cent average annual increase of recent years, "we could cut taxes not only corporate but personal."

RED MARSHAL BOASTS RUSSIA CAN RUIN U.S.

MOSCOW (AP)—Defense Minister Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky asserted Wednesday Soviet rockets could blast all U.S. "industrial and administrative-political centers" into the heavens in a single blow. He also called for better U.S.-Soviet relations.

Malinovsky couped hard words with soft in an interview with the Communist party paper Pravda in which he sharply assailed U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Malinovsky said McNamara's declaration before the Senate Armed Services Committee that the United States is capable of destroying selected Soviet targets was boastful and was "directed not at the improvement of relations between the Soviet Union and the United States, but a inciting passions of war hysteria, and in the final analysis stepping up the arms race. And the arms race has always been the road that led mankind to war."

ACCUSE U. S. AGAIN

Malinovsky charged that secretary McNamara and other U.S. administration officials are whipping up war hysteria because they hope that corporations for which they once worked will make great profits.

He said Rockefeller has been "exploiting unscrupulously the peoples' fears" with a campaign for the construction of nuclear shelters.

"Tremendous sums are spent on this which are transferred from the pockets of taxpayers into the safes of monopolies engaged in this profitable business," Malinovsky said. "But every sober minded person realizes that shelters against atom and hydrogen bombs are nothing but a coffin, a grave prepared in advance."

RED SPY READY TO BE QUIZZED

ACQUAVIVA, Italy (AP)—Doctors have set Lt. Miluse Solakov's fractures and the Bulgarian is reported nearly in shape for further official questioning about the crash landing of his camera-carrying MIG-17 jet.

Dr. Giuseppe Della Corte said it is up to Italian counterintelligence officers to decide when Solakov, 22, will be moved to a military hospital at Bari, 16 miles north of Acquaviva.

Solakov underwent surgery on Tuesday night for repair of fractures of a collarbone and his left arm in the crash Saturday, the end of a flight over a nearby missile base that Italian authorities suspect was a spy mission.

The lieutenant claims he is a political refugee and has asked for asylum. Italian officials turned back to Rome two Bulgarian diplomats who came here to talk to him and view the police-guarded plane wreckage.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The National Amateur Baseball Federation Tournament, held in Altoona, Pa., the past nine years, will be held in Louisville, Ky., this year, officials said Tuesday night. No dates have been set for the late summer tourney.

16 KILLED AND 80 WOUNDED IN CARACAS RIOT

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Sixteen persons were reported killed and 80 wounded Tuesday in left-wing violence in which military police battled snipers.

Bombs exploded in scattered parts of the city and eight buses were burned during the fighting in the second day of clashes brought on by leftist agitators against the government of President Romulo Betancourt.

Twenty-three persons have been killed and more than 100 injured in the disorders which coincided with the meeting of Western Hemisphere foreign ministers at Punta del Este, Uruguay, to consider action against Fidel Castro's Cuba.

The violence was accompanied by a nationwide transit strike called in defiance of the government. Caracas appeared fairly calm this morning after a night in which heavy gunfire was heard in many sections of the city.

Caracas' Central University, where police said pro-Castro extremists holed up and fired on them, was cleared of its students by university authorities.

Two hundred persons were reported arrested.

All government schools were ordered closed to prevent students from being used by pro-Castro elements in disorders.

QUITO, Ecuador (AP)—The search for Frank Rocco, of Ellwood City, Pa., who disappeared 13 days ago while trying to descend Sangay volcano, was abandoned Tuesday.

A companion who was rescued told authorities that when he last saw Rocco on the 15,600-foot volcano, he appeared delirious, possibly from the volcano's fumes.

Graham Talks To 4,000 In Ball Park

MARACAIBO, Venezuela (AP)

—Evangelist Billy Graham spoke to a crowd of 4,000 at a baseball park here Tuesday night after ducking out the back door of a hall to avoid a pro-Cuban mob. Graham was spirited out of the state legislative hall by local officials when his speech to them was interrupted by a crowd banging on the front door and chanting.

Several legislators said they thought the crowd was out to overthrow the local government, not to get Graham.

Elements favorable to Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro in Caracas, the Venezuelan capital, have been rioting daily since the start of the Punta del Este, Uruguay, conference.

Graham is making a tour of five Latin-American countries.

How to swallow a bitter pill

First, find a bitter pill. There are so few nowadays. It all started because children, bless 'em, are so good at resisting bad-tasting medicine. You can medicate their chins or hair, but getting the stuff in them is beyond the ken of science. Kids can spit a country mile. So pharmacists began sugar-coating pills, putting medication in capsules, or mixing with sweet syrup. And we soon found that adults, too, like medicine the easy way. So now, most of our prescriptions are quite pleasant to take. If you should run into one of the few bitter ones, believe us, there are good medical reasons for it.

Gen. Trudeau Says He Put Across "Basic Message" In Talks Despite Censor

WASHINGTON (AP)—Army Lt. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau testified today that changes made by censors in some of his anti-Communist speeches have "caused me to wonder" but "have not prevented me from getting across my basic message."

Trudeau, head of Army research and development and former chief of Army intelligence, made the statements in testimony at a Senate investigation of charges that Pentagon censorship has muzzled military men.

He said the State Department was responsible for some changes or suggested changes in his texts, but that he did not always know the sources of the changes.

Trudeau quoted changes called for by censors in one of his speeches, adding that there also were changes in others "with the source (of the suggested changes) unidentified, which gave my staff and me cause for wonder about the motivation involved."

STATE WANTED CHANGE

In the text of a Trudeau speech prepared for delivery Nov. 19, before the American Ordnance Association in Washington, he said, the State Department suggested that he should not say "the tenets of Marx and Engels and Lenin are as firm a part of the Communist doctrine as when they were announced."

The general said: "The Department of State's comment to this suggested change was, and again I quote:

"They (the Communists) have jettisoned many of these tenets, unfortunately, because tenets were retarding industrial expansion."

MINDFUL OF DUTY

The general said he always was mindful of a soldier's duty when confronted with censorship—"A soldier does not question the policies and decisions of higher government authority. He accepts them."

Censoring of Trudeau's speeches by the Defense Department was one of the main examples cited by Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., in forcing the investigation by a special Senate Armed Services subcommittee.

Thurmond complained of 10 instances in which, he said, anti-Communist statements had been stricken from speeches by the military to public groups. He didn't say who made the speeches.

MADE 54 SPEECHES

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said later that all 10 had been cut from speech texts written by Trudeau. The secretary added that Trudeau had made 54 speeches in the year Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau testified today that changes made by censors in some of his anti-Communist speeches have "caused me to wonder" but "have not prevented me from getting across my basic message."

Trudeau will be followed on the witness stand by Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

A letter from former President Dwight D. Eisenhower suggesting a change in the policy on the censoring of speeches was inserted in the record as the hearings began Tuesday.

"I question the desirability of requiring the topmost government officials, whether military or civilian, to submit to censorship of content—as distinguished from security matters—prior to their utterance," Eisenhower said.

But he also said there must be a "rule of reason" in applying policies. Retired Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, former chief of naval operations, warned against "too much emphasis" on censorship of military men's speeches.

Thurmond argues that this censorship is muzzling and hampers officers in efforts to inform their troops and the public on communism.

McNamara maintains it is not muzzling. He says the editing of speeches was designed to keep military spokesmen's public views in line with national policy.

LONG RANGE REQUEST

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The football Cardinals received a postcard from a fan in Tokyo recently. It said:

"Dear Friend, 'Will you give me player's photo and sign? And teach me this season record till now. I'll be waiting to hear from you.'"

"Sincerely, 'Yasunobu Takeuchi, 21-3 Sakuma-Cho, Kanda, Chiyoda-Kp, Tokyo, Japan.'"

The Cardinals obliged.

ADAMS COUNTY PUBLIC LIBRARY

A DISCONTENTED BOOK
Mrs. W. R. Schubart

John Steinbeck has written another popular novel, "The Winter of Our Discontent," good enough to be a Book-of-the-Month Club choice, and to run serially in McCall's magazine. The wrapper says, "This book is about a large part of America today," and is supposed to be a protest against the shady ethics connected with a materialistic society.

The whole picture is set in the first chapter against a background of April gold and Easter-time. Ethan Allen Hawley (note that name, chosen to represent long New England ancestry) is a clerk in a grocery store he once owned but lost because of his inability, and even more, because of his lack of desire, to be a good businessman. He has an adoring wife who is calm, solid, always forgiving, but seldom understanding. He teases her lightly, loves her dearly, and never confides in her. Together with their two teen-age children, they occupy a fine old white clapboard house, decorated with a fanlight over the front door and a widow's walk on top — the house built by Hawley's great grandfather with whale oil money.

ABHORS SHADY DEALINGS

Although Hawley is reasonably content with his lot and fond of his community, he abhors the shady dealings he observes and the conniving toward status and possessions. His Italian boss, for instance, orders him not to trim the meat so closely. One can never make any money that way, and who is harmed?

But gradually Hawley is goaded to action, to a sacrifice of his principles, and to a self destruction by the material desires of his family, and by friends who push him toward "success." The children want clothes and a television set; the banker pricks him constantly with the image of his successful grandfather and his lack of material vision. Gradually, but consciously, he succumbs to their blandishments, avoiding some evils and plunging into others. There is even a temptress involved, the modern prototype of a New England witch. This one is benign, a seer and seductive. He escapes her clutch, his attempt at bank robbery is foiled, and he skirts the temptation to accept payola. But his fate is worse than these, for he does betray the one man who believed in him, and he indirectly instigates the death of an old drunken friend.

DISHONEST VENTURE

The climax, and there is one, comes when a supremely dishonest venture committed by his own son is exposed, and the son shows no remorse, only sullen bitterness. Hawley is jolted to the mirror to face his abominations and resolves to suicide. But he returns when the memory of his innocent and sensitive daughter recalls his obligations to her "else another light might go out."

In some ways this is a good story, bearing all the ingredients of entertainment — people, plot, suspense, melodrama, love and morality. Steinbeck knows how to write a best seller. But while

10 ROTARIANS TO TAKE PART IN CLUB SKIT

The following members of the Littlestown Rotary Club will participate in the skit "Here Comes the Minstrel" representing the club in the PTA-sponsored Jabberwock on Saturday night: L. Robert Snyder, Charles E. Rabenstein, Fred W. King, Clarence R. Reck, Clarence J. Krichen Jr., Charles E. Ritter, Fran E. Baseboar, Preston L. Myers and James L. Rhoades and George P. Smith as pianist.

Drum selections were played by John Feeser III, Third Grader at Rolling Acres Elementary School, following the Rotary Club dinner on Tuesday evening at Schottie's Hotel. Accompaniment for the drum solos was provided on the piano by Wilbur Reck, Hanover, a former member and pianist for the club. Visiting Rotarians in the book isn't bad, neither is it good. It is a piece of craft, not a work of art. The characters are types, their motives are not explored, the situations are too pat, even melodramatic — a bank robbery indeed! Read it to pass a harmless hour.

Four Lehigh University Students Killed In Pike Crash; 4 Others Die In Pa.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A rash of auto accidents killed eight persons in Pennsylvania Wednesday night, including four college students who died in a car-truck collision on the Pennsylvania Turnpike near Donegal.

Another turnpike crash involving a car and tractor-trailer on the northeast extension killed one college student and injured another.

Killed in the crash near Donegal were Philip G. Dehuff III, 19, of Bethel Park, near Pittsburgh; Bruce C. Gikillam, 19, also of Bethel Park; Richard J. Duncan, 20, of Parkersburg, W. Va.; and Thomas Edward Scanlon, 19, of Carnegie. All four were students at Lehigh University in Bethlehem.

ANOTHER STUDENT

Deputy Coroner Carmen C. Perna of Westmoreland County said Dehuff was driving the west-bound car which crossed the median strip and spun into the east-bound tractor-trailer. The truck driver, David Gatto, of Pittsburgh, was treated at a hospital and released.

Earlier David Shivers, 24, of Sewell, N.J., was killed and George Reagan, 21, of Marmora, N.J., injured when their car rammed into the rear of a tractor-trailer one mile north of the Wilkes-Barre interchange of the Turnpike's Northeast Extension. Shivers was a student at Albright College in Reading as is Reagan.

Police said the two were returning from Hamilton, N.Y., where Reagan, driver of the car, had taken a test at Colgate University. Shivers went along for the ride.

THREE OTHER FATALS

Reagan was reported in fair condition today in Wilkes-Barre General Hospital. The driver of the truck, George M. Meyer, of Williamsport, Pa., escaped injury. He was delivering rock salt to the maintenance department at Pocomo Interchange, seven miles from where the accident occurred. Three other fatalities also occurred in northern Pennsylvania.

In Scranton, Eugene McTague, 23, was killed after being thrown from his car as it ran out of control over a 50-foot embankment. The car sideswiped a utility pole, uprooted three guard rails and went over the embankment in the 500 block of west Market Street.

CRUSHED BY CAR

Walter Stremba, 70, a retired coal miner, was killed by an auto near his Shenandoah home as he was taking his evening stroll. Stremba died in Locust Mountain State Hospital a short time after being struck.

Emmons Belknap, 56, of Honesdale, was found pinned under his car in the family garage by his wife. Officials said Belknap died when a spring on a bumper jack he was using apparently flew out and the car came down on him.

Search For Boys In Mine Continues

CLEARFIELD, Pa. (AP)—The search for two boys believed trapped in an abandoned clay mine near here entered its 11th day today as workers continued the round-the-clock task of excavating and draining the wet, crumbling tunnels.

Mine inspector Gerald Moody, describing the situation, said, "We're still digging, still pumping, still hoping."

The boys, Wesley Lowe, 13, and Larry Husted, 10, were last seen entering the mine, where they had a secret clubhouse, Jan. 14.

Searchers digging out a rock fall Wednesday found a pair of gloves worn by one of the boys the day he disappeared. Lewis Evans, state secretary of mines, said the gloves were conclusive evidence that the boys had been in that spot, at least before the cave-in. He said one of the gloves smelled of oil, ap-

GOP LEADERS LIKE SCRANTON FOR GOVERNOR

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Republican leaders in seven northeastern Pennsylvania counties report sentiment is running high in their counties for Congressman William W. Scranton as GOP candidate for governor.

Leaders from Lackawanna, Bradford, Pike, Sullivan, Susquehanna, Wyoming and Wayne counties voiced their opinions Wednesday night at the first of a series of grass roots samplings of the popularity of announced and unannounced candidates for governor and U.S. senator.

The action renewed the possibility of a draft of Scranton, who late last year announced he would not be a candidate for state-wide office, that he planned to seek reelection to congress from the 10th district.

CHANGE IN DISTRICT

Scranton was not immediately available for comment.

Scranton's district now includes Lackawanna, Pike, Sullivan, Susquehanna, Wyoming and Wayne counties. But under a reapportionment plan which seems assured of passage by the legislature, Pike County would be dropped from his district and Bradford County added.

GOP representatives from Carbon, Monroe and Northampton Counties also were on hand at Wednesday night's meeting but they gave no indication of strong sentiment for Scranton.

George I. Bloom, Republican State chairman, and Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., were the main speakers.

NEED WOMAN ON TICKET

Bloom read off a list of some 50 names mentioned as possibilities for places on the GOP ticket. Henry Fuller, Lackawanna County GOP chairman, told the group: "We are 100 per cent behind Bill Scranton if we can get him to run."

A spokesman from another county then asked if Scranton would be available.

"He hasn't shut the door," said Fuller.

The spokesman then asked Bloom about the matter.

Bloom said he talked to Scranton and the congressman hadn't changed his stand. The majority of the representatives cited a need for a woman on the Republican state ticket, preferably for secretary of internal affairs.

Report Maris Is Wanting $70,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Home run king Roger Maris and New York Yankee officials, still a reported $10,000 apart on Maris' 1962 contract, will wait until the club heads to Florida for further negotiations.

"No agreement was reached," General Manager Roy Hamey said after a 20-minute meeting with Maris Wednesday. "Further contract negotiations will be resumed in Florida next month."

Both Hamey and Maris will attend the New York Baseball Writers' dinner Sunday night but apparently any talks will be social only.

Maris reportedly is asking $70,000 after his sensational 1961 season, when he rapped 61 home runs in a 162-game schedule and won the American League's most valuable player award for the second straight time.

Hamey is believed to be trying to hold Roger down to around $60,000.
